

Available online at www.sciencedirect.com

Artificial Intelligence 170 (2006) 1193

Artificial Intelligence

www.elsevier.com/locate/artint

Editorial Note

This is the second year that AIJ is publishing a December Review Issue, carrying on the experiment begun last year.

In this December 2006 issue, we introduce another review category: “The Turing Tapes: Comments and Controversies in AI”. The idea is to provide an outlet for thought-provoking personal views on topics of current interest. Three such items appear in this issue, by Terry Winograd, Roger Schank, and Lee Spector.

In addition, this issue features a Field Review by Melanie Mitchell, a number of individual Book Reviews (by Michael Anderson, Tom Costello & John McCarthy, Roger Dannenberg, Drew McDermott, and Tim Oates & Waiyan Chong) and two Multiple Book Reviews (by Bill Idsardi and Leora Morgenstern).

The Review Editors

Peter Norvig

Don Perlis

E-mail address: donperlis@gmail.com (D. Perlis)

Available online 1 November 2006